"A Safe Place Workshop is vital for increasing awareness of child sexual abuse for any individual, group and organization dedicated to working or advocating to the needs of children... you'll walk in with common misconceptions, but walk out armed with truth and knowledge." -- Hope Dunn, CASA Volunteer, CASA of East Tennessee, Knoxville, TN

"The SpeakingOut Child Sexual Abuse Prevention Workshop is a place to receive 'down to earth', practical truths and facts about child sexual abuse. It is one time you as an individual get to connect with who has the responsibility to prevent child sexual abuse before a child is harmed. I have attended one and will sure recommend the workshop to any lover of children, parents, grandparents, caregivers, counselors, etc. You don't leave the same! Boosted with knowledge and action backed information." -- Princess Olufemi-Kayode

"SpeakingOut has changed my view on a lot of things and has helped me to develop a passion for children who have been sexually abused. The workshop provided me with shocking information and statistics that really opened my eyes to the severity of this issue in our world today. As someone who plans on going into the counseling profession, I hope to bring my new found passion into my practice in order to raise awareness of the issue of child sexual abuse." -- Lisa White, Counseling Student, Johnson Bible College, Knoxville, TN
